CREATE THE CHANGE

2014 ANNUAL REPORT
“Be the change you want to see in the world.”
—Mahatma Gandhi

There is a power in each of us to create change. To make the place we live better. To inspire, educate, engage and include. To unleash opportunity and create possibility. To share. To give. To change lives forever.
Friends of the Community Foundation:

The Duluth Superior Area Community Foundation provides meaningful opportunities for philanthropy, addresses the changing needs of our communities, builds permanent charitable capital and engages in community leadership activities that support a vibrant and healthy region. These are the commitments we made in our current strategic plan.

The incredible and inspiring stores that appear in our 2014 Annual Report demonstrate these important commitments. Dan and Cathy Mundt’s creation of the Daniel H. and Catherine L. Mundt Scholarship Fund for Late Bloomers has provided scholarship opportunities for students because someone believed in them and in their ability to succeed. CHUM’s Family Coaches Program at the Steve O’Neil Apartments brings innovation to breaking the cycle of homelessness for families. Kelly Stark, one of our many scholarship recipients, will be using her degree to make a difference with marginalized populations. And the Mentor Superior program is providing positive adult role models for deserving children and young people.

All of these stories document the compelling ability in each of us to make a difference. And what a difference these individuals have made through permanent, meaningful philanthropy.

These stories also address the diminishing opportunities for young people as captured in Dr. Robert D. Putnam’s new book, Our Kids: The American Dream in Crisis. We were pleased to bring Dr. Putnam back to our Annual Celebration to inform us about his new research. We share his concerns about the troubling opportunity gap and look forward to working with donors and nonprofit organizations who are interested in tackling this critical need.

As we work toward our next strategic plan during the coming year, we hope to hear from you. We would like to engage with you as we work together to make this an even better place to live for all of our kids. Thank you for creating change in our region.

Imagine you’re six years old. You don’t know when you will eat next, where you will sleep tonight, or if you will be able to make it to school tomorrow. You and your family are homeless. All you can think about is surviving from day to day. Your life has been this way for as long as you can remember.

Now imagine a place specifically created to end family homelessness. It’s the Steve O’Neil Apartments in Duluth. It’s a safe, warm place designed around your well-being. You move in. You’re no longer homeless. But how do you act? How do you and your family relate to other people? What is possible for you now?

“To end family homelessness we not only have to provide permanent, supportive housing,” says Lee Stuart, executive director of Churches United in Ministry (CHUM). “We must give each member of the family the skills and resources they need to move beyond the traumatizing experience of being homeless, to a place of possibility and self-actualization.”

The Family Coaches Program at the Steve O’Neil Apartments was created to help families stabilize their lives. The Duluth Superior Area Community Foundation’s Fair Chance Fund is helping fund the program. The Fair Chance Fund challenges leaders in education and human services to think in fresh ways about the nature and delivery of services to low-income people, and to support innovative and collaborative projects that empower families in our region to overcome poverty.

“Thanks to the Community Foundation, Family Coaches at the Steve O’Neil Apartments are creating an environment of security, warmth, friendship and support,” says Lee. “They are actively listening, helping families dream and set goals, holding them accountable for taking steps to achieve those goals, never giving up on them, sustaining possibility, building community within families, between families and between the families and the community. It is a big job with the potential to create incredible change.”
THE IMPACT OF HOMELESSNESS IS PROFOUND. IT AFFECTS THE WAY YOU THINK, FEEL, BEHAVE, RELATE, AND COPE.
BEING A MENTOR MEANS BEING A FRIEND, A ROLE MODEL—OR EVEN A HERO.
Creating change by being a mentor

You would be amazed at what spending an afternoon at the park, baking cookies or going to a ball game can do for a child in need of an adult role model. Having an adult listen and show interest in who you are can raise your self-confidence, improve your outlook on life and even make you more likely to do better in school. That kind of friendship is what Mentor Superior is providing for over 40 children in Superior right now.

“Mentor Superior is unique because it was started in 2011 by a group of community leaders attending a Leadership Superior program,” says Callie Ronstrom, the Duluth Area Family YMCA’s Mentor Duluth director. “The group was working on a project to improve the community and decided that starting with its young people was vital.”

Research by the SEARCH Institute reveals that one of the most important indicators as to whether a child will succeed in life is the number of positive adult role models they have as they are growing up. The young people served by Mentor Superior are between 5–17. They come from single parent families. Most are living in poverty. Having a positive adult outside their family who cares for them is crucial for their psychological development and can lead to creating options for them that can break the cycle of poverty in their family.

“Mentor Superior uses the same model as Mentor Duluth,” says Callie. “Since its creation Mentor Superior has been kept alive by a strong, active and committed board. However, in order to grow and serve more children a full-time staff person was needed to take care of the day-to-day operation of the program.”

Salisa Hochstetler, Mentor Superior program coordinator is that full-time person. According to her and board member Melissa Brown, the Duluth Superior Area Community Foundation’s Community Opportunity Fund is helping provide the much needed funding to ensure Mentor Superior is able to serve as many children waiting for a mentor as possible. One of the purposes of the Community Opportunity Fund is to strengthen the organizational capacity of grantees to sustainably and effectively fulfill their mission.

“It is amazing what simply spending time with a child can do,” says Callie. “We couldn’t sustain this program without the help of the Community Foundation.”
Getting an education to change the world

Kelly Stark has had her share of setbacks. They include a divorce that left her a single parent and a fire that resulted in losing everything she owned.

Through it all, Kelly has found a way to keep positive and keep going.

“After my divorce I realized that I couldn’t provide enough income for my son and me to live independently,” says Kelly. “I knew I had to get at least a four-year degree.”

Two scholarships from the Duluth Superior Area Community Foundation designed for primary caregivers of one or more children, plus a job on campus, are helping Kelly pursue a degree in psychology from The College of St. Scholastica.

“After the fire, I realized what community means. I had only been going to my church for about three weeks when church members collected donations to completely supply my kitchen. Friends, family and neighbors also came to my rescue,” says Kelly. “I feel such a part of this community.”

Kelly plans to use her education to evoke positive change.

“I plan to use my degree to work with populations that are marginalized,” says Kelly. “In our society there is such stigma around mental health and homelessness. I want to start a conversation about the issues these populations are facing. Without conversation there cannot be education. Without education there cannot be collaboration and without collaboration there cannot be change.”

At an annual Duluth Superior Area Community Foundation dinner for scholarship recipients, Kelly met some of the other students who are benefiting from Community Foundation scholarships.

“They give opportunities to many different people,” says Kelly. “I met a woman who is going to become a science teacher. Think of how many little girls she can affect. I met so many people at the dinner from so many life situations. They were all treated with respect and dignity. Community Foundation donors are making a positive change in the lives of many who otherwise couldn’t afford to go back to school.”
THANKS TO YOU, THE SKY IS THE LIMIT.
Passionate about creating change for tomorrow’s children

If you spend any amount of time with attorney Dan Mundt, you’ll soon realize he’s a man who has left very little on the table during his eighty-seven years. His life has taken him from the farms and mills of northern Wisconsin in the 1930s, to the Philippine islands of the South Pacific in World War II as Commander of Battery “B” 24th Battalion, 12th Infantry Division, Philippine Scouts to representing American business icons.

Dan’s professional life has been rich and varied and has included many undertakings outside of his thriving legal practice. For over eighteen years, he taught Business Law and created and taught an advanced class in Government Regulation of Business at the University of Minnesota, Duluth. For 23 years, he was a speaker on Pension and Health Funds at annual meetings (5,000–6,000 attendees) for the nonprofit International Foundation of Employee Benefit Plans. Also, as requested, he developed a code of ethics for the administration of all employee benefit plans. For 35 years, he was Chairman of the Legacy & Endowment Fund Committee at Glen Avon Presbyterian Church. The fund created and administered five programs including a scholarship program for Late Bloomers.

What’s even more impressive is the amount of meaning Dan has packed into his life between those historic milestones—64 years of marriage, five children, volunteerism, advocacy and leadership roles too numerous to name here. Through it all, Dan has worked to create positive change for all he has touched.

“I couldn’t do it all without my wife, Cathy,” says Dan. “She helped me through law school while teaching elementary school, fourth grade, for the Minneapolis School District. She has been and continues to be a tireless community advocate with me. I always say that she raised six kids—our five children, plus me.”

Dan and Cathy’s philosophy has been to give their children both “roots” and “wings.” That philosophy has formed their passion for creating change for young people who may not have the same opportunities as others. In 2003, they worked with the Duluth Superior Area Community Foundation to create the Daniel H. and Catherine L. Mundt Scholarship Fund for Late Bloomers—similar in nature to the Glen Avon Legacy & Endowment Fund Late Bloomers Scholarship program. As the name implies, the Late Bloomers scholarship is for high school seniors who have not yet realized their full potential. It seeks to balance some of the inequality of opportunities among children. Since its creation many Duluth high school seniors who may not have considered postsecondary education have had a chance to realize that someone believed that they could succeed.
Dan is a man of deep faith and is devoted to the practice of EMPATHY.

“I believe that spending time with a child, listening and just being with them is more important than anything else,” says Dan. “I owe much to those who have mentored, shared, taught and guided me along the way. Helping a child to realize his or her potential by showing EMPATHY is essential.”

Dan and Cathy have been described as “two of the most kind-hearted and generous humanitarians I know.” Besides their donations to the Community Foundation through the Late Bloomers Fund, they have also contributed to multiple Duluth organizations through their other Community Foundation Funds. Individually they remain extremely active and generous to the community.

Dan is currently working on a project called Gender Matters, which involves IMMERSING children in nature without using a set classroom curriculum. Gender Matters is designed to encourage children to make nature and school an essential part of their life. The program seeks to help children develop self-esteem, self-confidence, self-assurance and self-acceptance through their experience with nature and education.

“We have had a good life with many experiences and opportunities,” says Dan. “We are blessed, thankful and always ready to give back.”
